
Semantic Search Systems Based Triple

semantic search - computer science - we have built two semantic search systems. the first system, activity based search (abs), provides semantic search for a range of domains, including musicians, athletes, actors, places and prod-ucts. the second system (w3c semantic search) is more focused and provides semantic search for the website of the world wide knowledge acquisition for semantic search systems - knowledge acquisition for semantic search systems wang wei, payam m. barnaghi, andrzej bargiela school of computer science university of nottingham (malaysia campus) evaluating semantic search systems to identify future ... - evaluating semantic search systems to identify future directions of research?
